3. Data Quality (Principle 3)

Council seeks to ensure that personal information held by it is accurate, complete and current, and has been provided by the individual or other reliable source. Council provides a simple process for information to be updated or corrected. Reference to amendments and correction of information is included in “Access and Correction (Principle 6)”.

4. Data Security (Principle 4)

Council follows all necessary procedures to ensure personal information it holds is stored safely and securely and is accessed only by those requiring or authorised to use the information.

Employees and elected members are required to protect personal information that they have access to and ensure that it is kept secure and used for authorised purposes only. Confidentiality must be maintained at all times when handling personal or sensitive information and must not be disclosed to any unauthorised parties.

Both employees and elected members are bound by section 339 of the Local Government Act 1993, whereby they “must not make improper use of any information acquired”.

Council files are stored securely and can only be accessed by authorised officers. An employee failing to meet confidentiality and privacy conventions may be subject to disciplinary action, in accordance with Council policy.

Council ensures the maintenance of privacy and confidentiality through the provisions of physical or building security; computer and network security; communications security; and personnel security; in addition to policy and procedures that are compatible with principles of confidentiality and privacy.

Any personal information in the possession of Council that is no longer required will be disposed of by secure means, generally via confidential shredding of documents or permanent deletion of electronic records.

Council also complies with the provisions of the Archives Act 1983, and its legal obligations to retain information for a set period or permanently.

5. Openness (Principle 5)

Council will make this Policy available upon request. Upon request, Council will take all reasonable steps to provide the individual with the personal information it holds and collects (and for what purpose/s the information is collected, held, used and disclosed).

6. Access and Correction (Principle 6)

In accordance with Principle 6 of the Personal Information Protection Principles, an individual may access personal information about them that is in Council's possession. Some basic information may be accessed or provided upon request (subject to proof of identity requirements) and some information may be released upon completion of an information request and release form (i.e Immunisation details). More sensitive information, for example, relating to complaints or neighbourhood disputes, must be applied for under the Right to Information Act 2009. These requests are managed in line with the provisions of this Act.

A request for information, clearly stating the information required, must be made in writing and addressed to:

The Principal Officer
Devonport City Council
PO Box 604
DEVONPORT TAS 7310

If upon accessing their personal information the individual believes the personal information is incorrect, inaccurate, out of date or misleading, the individual can request the information be corrected or amended. Amendments to personal information are established under the Act. A request to amend information under this Act must be in writing and addressed to the Principal Officer (mailing details listed above).

The request must specify:

- an address to which the notice is to be sent;
- particulars of the information the person believes is incomplete, incorrect, out of date or misleading; and
- the amendments that the person wants made to that information.

If the individual is not satisfied with the outcome of the request or handling of the request for access, they may lodge a formal complaint with the Ombudsman.

7. Unique Identifiers (Principle 7)

Unique identifiers are assigned to individuals only in circumstances where it is necessary to perform Council's functions and is permissible by law. A unique identifier is a reference that enables identification of an individual, for example a driver's licence number. Council will not adopt as its own a unique identifier, any unique identifier assigned to the individual by another personal information custodian, unless adoption is required in carrying out its functions efficiently, or it has obtained the consent of the individual to use of the unique identifier.

8. Anonymity (Principle 8)

Individuals have the right to remain anonymous when supplying personal information as part of dealings with Council, however this is only feasible when it is lawful and practical to do so. Remaining anonymous in many cases inhibits Council's ability to process a complaint or follow up on a matter. Council therefore reserves the right not to act upon matters or complaints where the supply of relevant personal information has not been provided to Council or is insufficient.

9. Disclosure of Information outside of Tasmania (Principle 9)

Information requested by an individual or organisation outside of Tasmania will only be transferred with the individual's consent or if authorised under legislation. This Principle is designed to protect the privacy of personal information if it is sent to a third party outside of Tasmania.

10. Sensitive Information (Principle 10)

The collection of sensitive information will only occur with the individual's consent, or in circumstances where it is permitted or required under the Personal Information Protection Act 2004 or other legislation. Council will ensure that sensitive information or data is treated with the greatest security and confidentiality restrictions, to ensure information is used exclusively for the purpose for which it was collected.

Sensitive information may include:

- opinions or information relating to ethnicity or racial background;
- political opinions or associations;
- religious beliefs or affiliations;
- trade union membership;
- criminal record;
- health information; and/or
- financial status.

11. Confidentiality Agreement

Devonport City Council employees, contractors and work placement participants are encouraged to sign Council's Confidentiality Agreement. This agreement stipulates various confidentiality clauses, including:

- That all information obtained, which may be confidential, harmful or discriminatory in nature must be respected and must not be unduly exposed or leaked;
- Employees must adhere to all relevant Council policies, in particular those regarding personal, private and/or harmful information;
- Confidential information obtained must be gathered for a specific purpose;
- All information obtained must be kept safe and must not be subject to unauthorised access; and

- Employees must not leak any private information regarding Council or any aspect of its administration.

Furthermore, Council staff must comply with the provisions of the Code of Conduct, which details that employees must respect confidentiality and privacy and only use such information for Council purposes including the accessing confidential information for authorised work-related tasks.

12. Privacy Officer

The Council has appointed a Privacy Officer to oversee the operation of the Personal Information Protection Policy. The Privacy Officer will liaise with customers in respect to requests, enquiries, and complaints regarding personal information kept by the Council. It is appropriate that the Principal Officer, appointed under the Right to Information Act 2009, be appointed Privacy Officer. This officer will receive customer requests for access to personal information and action these requests; respond to requests in writing; amend personal information; and liaise with relevant Departments in relation to information requests and amendments.

13. Public Interest Disclosures Act 2002

Providing confidential information that forms part of a Public Information Disclosure does not constitute a breach of any Act that imposes a duty to maintain confidentiality, Council's Confidentiality Agreement or this Policy, however there are restrictions as to how this information is used and to whom it is granted.

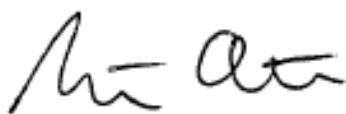

The Ombudsman's Guidelines in relation to Public Interest Disclosures state that all reasonable steps shall be made to protect the identity of a discloser, witness or of the person against whom the disclosure has been made. Section 23 of the Act requires any person who receives information due to the handling or investigation of a protected disclosure not to disclose that information except in limited circumstances. There may be financial or punitive penalties, or both, if information is disclosed in breach of this section.

Section 90 of the Act exempts the release of documents under the Right to Information Act 2009 to the extent that they contain information regarding a disclosure, or information that is likely to lead to the identification of the person who made the disclosure, or if the person whom is subject of the disclosure, may be realised.

14. Complaints

Complaints relating to privacy and the provision of personal information must be made in writing and addressed to the Principal Officer (refer to Principle 6 for details).

Complaints will be acknowledged in accordance with Council's Customer Service Charter timeframes. The complaint must be received within 6 months from the time the complainant first

	became aware of the issue. Complaint details will remain confidential and a written response will be provided to the complainant. An individual dissatisfied with the outcome of the request or handling of the request for access can also lodge a formal complaint with the Ombudsman.
