

Terms of Reference for the Devonport Access and Inclusion Working Group

The Devonport City Council (we) want to make our city better for everyone to live in

We have written a disability inclusion plan that will make council information, services, and facilities available to all community members

We are now forming a group to help council carry out the ideas in the plan

We are seeking up to 8 people living with disability or carers or disability organisations who live or work in Devonport to be part of the group

The access and inclusion working group will also have 2 Devonport councillors

All group members are to have a current clearance and registration to work with Vulnerable People in Tasmania

The group will meet every 2 months

Notes meetings will be sent to group members and added to council meeting agendas

Members will be covered by council's insurance when attending meetings or activities as part of the group

Council's community services manager is the person responsible for the working group

The terms of reference will be reviewed July 2023
